Congratulations Seville!

I would like to congratulate the hard working organising committee of the inaugural Seville Festival for putting on a highly successful event over the weekend (8/11/09). I was very impressed by students from Seville Primary who put on a variety of colourful singing and dancing performances to keep those looking for a cool retreat from the searing sun entertained.

A highlight of the event for me was the CFA's impromptu demonstration of the crew protection water curtain over one of the CFA trucks. It saw throngs of kids squeal with delight as they enjoyed a run under a fire truck sized sprinkler. I would have loved to have joined in myself!

Thank you to the Seville community for showing your support for Seville Primary and the CFA with such a strong turnout. I have already marked November in my diary with a reminder in anticipation of next year's festival. To all those involved with the Seville Festival, well done.
