Lilydale Railway Station Gets More Parking at Last!

After lobbying the Minister for Public Transport to have the 90 additional car parks at Lilydale railway station constructed as a matter of priority, I am pleased to advise that works to create the spaces are expected to be completed by the end of June this year.

In the interests of preserving a number of trees at the station after an objection was raised by council, the number of new spaces has dropped from 90 to 70 plus four additional disabled parking spaces. That said, the new spaces will provide more opportunities for people to park and ride which will be welcome relief for Yarra Ranges commuters.
